Ratification of Signed Letter for Digital Library Lending Services of E-Content Material for the Brazoria County Library System

Angleton, TX 77515

Dear Mr. L.M "Matt" Sebesta, Jr.

This is in response to an email request on your behalf from OCLC's CloudLibrary dated November 14, 2025, regarding your intention to transfer digital content, published by Penguin Random House, and sold to Brazoria County Library through Baker & Taylor Boundless, a Penguin Random House authorized e-content library lending wholesaler, to a different library lending platform.

You should be aware that Penguin Random House sold (it did not license) to Baker & Taylor Boundless for resale to libraries the digital copies of our e-content that are part of Brazoria County Library's collection. Thus, you own a single file for each copy you purchased. Since that copy is yours, you may possess, use and transfer that copy as you wish, so long as you do not violate the required DRM, use the copy to make additional copies, or otherwise infringe the copyright in the literary work represented by that copy. While we sold to Baker & Taylor Boundless the individual copies of e-content that you in turn purchased from Baker & Taylor Boundless, we did not give you or Baker & Taylor Boundless an unlimited, unrestricted license to make the numerous copies required to implement a web-based library lending system. Rather, we required Baker & Taylor Boundless to impose strict usage and DRM requirements (such as the "one copy/one user" rule) that regulate the use of Baker & Taylor Boundless' library lending platform to generate and manage the additional copies necessary to facilitate remote public lending.

You have indicated that Brazoria County Library no longer wishes to use Baker & Taylor Boundless' digital library lending services with respect to the e-content of Penguin Random House titles it has previously purchased, and that you now wish to use a different digital library lending service provider for those services. Please know that we will permit you to do this only if you select a digital library lending service provider that meets with our approval and has demonstrated to us its ability to provide the library services in a responsible manner and in accordance with our usage and DRM requirements.

Penguin
Random

It is our understanding that you have selected OCLC’s CloudLibrary to provide library lending services for your digital collection. As OCLC’s CloudLibrary is already authorized by Penguin Random House to provide digital library lending services for e-content, Penguin Random House will permit Brazoria County Library to use the digital library lending services of OCLC’s CloudLibrary for all digital content published by Penguin Random House, that Brazoria County Library previously purchased from Baker & Taylor Boundless.

Please sign and return the enclosed copy of this letter to acknowledge your understanding and acceptance of the foregoing. It is your responsibility to notify Baker & Taylor Boundless that you are transferring only selected titles from their library lending platform and you wish to transfer only these specific titles to the OCLC’s CloudLibrary platform.

Sincerely,

Re: Proposal for Professional Engineering Services
Water Supply Study for the Brazoria County Detention Facility Campus
Amendment #2
Condition Assessment for Brazoria County Detention Facility Water Treatment Facility

Dear Mr. Hanks:

HDR Engineering, Inc. (HDR) is pleased to submit this proposal for professional engineering services to perform a Condition Assessment for the Brazoria County Detention Facility Water Treatment Facility. The proposal is based on our understanding of the project from discussions with Brazoria County staff. For your convenience, this proposal consists of Project Understanding, Scope of Services, Fee Summary, and Schedule.

PROJECT UNDERSTANDING

Brazoria County (the County) operates the Brazoria County Detention Facility Campus (Campus) located north of the City of Angleton. Currently, the campus is supplied by groundwater from an onsite well located that is owned and operated by the County. The County has met with the City of Angleton and discussed the possibility of the City providing water service to meet current and future demands at the Campus.

The County has requested HDR provide a proposal with a scope of services to perform a Condition Assessment on the groundwater treatment facilities on the campus to determine improvements that should be included as part of the City providing future water supply.

The existing groundwater treatment facilities include the following primary components:

- Groundwater well – This well contains arsenic levels that are well above the current regulatory levels of 10 parts per billion.
- Aeration Tower – Cascade aerators to oxidize arsenic into a more filterable form.
- Ground Storage Tank – 750,000-gallon concrete tank.
- Arsenic Removal System – Pressure filters and pH adjustment to lower arsenic levels. This includes sulfuric acid and ferric chloride feed systems.
- High Service Pumps - Two booster pumps to provide pressurized water to the campus.
- Disinfection System – Chlorination system utilizing multiple 150-pound cylinders of gaseous chlorine.
- Fire Pump System – Fire pump driven by a diesel engine.
- High Service Pump Building – Concrete block building housing the high service pumps, control panels and other instruments.

SCOPE OF SERVICES

1. Project Management and QA/QC

HDR will perform project management activities under this task, including coordination, scheduling, budgeting, and accounting, and will complete quality assurance/quality control (QA/QC) reviews of work products.

2. Kickoff Meeting

HDR will conduct a two-hour kickoff meeting with the County to establish project objectives and understand the existing information available. Topics will include, but are not limited to, project schedule, project deliverables, communication protocols, as well as the following project topics:

- Reliability and redundancy requirements
- Average and peak flow projections for domestic and fire supply systems
- Backup power on the campus
- Preliminary discussions on potential future asset layouts

3. Condition Assessment of Remaining Assets

HDR will provide two staff to assess the condition of the assets that are determined to either remain in service or be replaced as part of the connection to the City of Angleton water system. This proposal assumes the following assets will be included in the Condition Assessment:

- Ground Storage Tank – HDR will utilize the County's existing condition reports from a third-party firm for this task.
- High Service Pump System – Pumps, motors, controls, piping, valves and other appurtenances.
- Fire Pump System – Pump, diesel engine drive, controls, piping, valves, building, and other appurtenances.
- Chlorine System – Gaseous chlorine system
- Site Electrical – Incoming service line and general electrical equipment
- Site Civil – Items such as fencing and site lighting.

The existing well, aeration tower, and arsenic filtration systems will not be evaluated.

HDR will evaluate each of these systems from a mechanical, structural, electrical, and instrumentation perspective, as they apply to the system. HDR will utilize asset age, condition, estimated remaining useful life, and expected capacity in its assessment. A recommendation will be made for each asset to remain, be repaired, or be replaced. A Class 5 preliminary construction cost estimate will be generated for each recommendation.

4. Review of Operator Licensing Requirements

One of the potential recommendations of this assessment is for the City of Angleton to deliver potable water into the Ground Storage Tank, and then have the County add additional chlorine or chloramines as it is pumped out of the Ground Storage Tank.

HDR will conduct research on regulations and confirm with TCEQ whether a licensed water operator will be required for this scenario. This finding will be documented in the Condition Assessment Report.

5. Condition Assessment Report

HDR will prepare a draft and final Condition Assessment Report.

6. ADDITIONAL SERVICES

Additional Services shall only be performed when directed by the County to HDR. These services are not considered normal or customary engineering services.

- Services resulting from significant changes in the extent of the project or its design including but not limited to changes in size, complexity, the County's schedule, or character of construction or method of financing; and revising previously accepted studies, reports, design documents or Contract Documents when such revisions are due to causes beyond HDR's control.
- Preparing to serve or serving as a consultant or witness for the County in any litigation, public hearing or other legal or administrative proceedings involving the Project.
- HDR will endeavor to appraise the County of any potential additional or extended services that may result from the above-listed items, prior to HDR's expenditure of time on such services. As previously noted, any such extended or additional services shall only be performed when directed by the County to HDR.

7. KEY ASSUMPTIONS

- This scope of services does not include preliminary or final design of recommended facility improvements. This task will be addressed in a future proposal.
- The evaluation of impacts and testing to changes in water quality will not be addressed in this scope of services. This task will be included in the final design of the project which will be submitted at a later date.
- Any preliminary cost estimates will be limited to Class 5 level of effort, as defined by AACE International.

RE: Petition to Abandon 30-ft Road Easement
2204 CR 434, Freeport, TX 77541

Dear Mr. Hanks,

As the property owners of Tract 2 (29.49 acres), Tract 3 (17.81 acres), and 30-foot road easement, in the A. Calvit League, A-49, Brazoria County, Texas, according to the Plat of Said Subdivision Recorded in Volume 2, Page 141, of the Plat records of Brazoria County, Texas. We would like to formally request the abandonment of the following described easement. Our property includes a 30-foot Road Easement between Tract 2 and Tract 3 as shown yellow highlighted on attached survey. As I cannot see any future value in a road at this location and an unmaintained easement will create an adverse impact on the development our property. We plan to combine two tracts and the abandoned road to one tract for future development. We would like to petition the County to abandon this road easement.

We can be reached by phone at (310-592-7936)/ (310-498-2882) or e-mail justin.wpe@gmail.com / jonathanbergman18@gmail.com.

BLS staff availability on October 24, 2025

Due to the lapse in appropriations, BLS press office staff will be available to answer questions about September 2025 CPI data only until noon (ET) today, October 24, 2025. The press office can be reached at PressOffice@bls.gov.

The Cost-of-Living Adjustment (COLA) for 2026 is announced by the Social Security Administration (SSA). Visit www.ssa.gov for more information.

Changes to the health insurance index

With the next release of CPI data, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) will remove long-term care (LTC) insurance from the health insurance index. Changes in the market for LTC insurance have made it out of scope and ineligible for pricing in the CPI market basket.

Technical Note

Brief Explanation of the CPI

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) measures the change in prices paid by consumers for goods and services. The CPI reflects spending patterns for each of two population groups: all urban consumers and urban wage earners and clerical workers. The all urban consumer group represents over 90 percent of the total

U.S. population. It is based on the expenditures of almost all residents of urban or metropolitan areas, including professionals, the self-employed, the poor, the unemployed, and retired people, as well as urban wage earners and clerical workers. Not included in the CPI are the spending patterns of people living in rural nonmetropolitan areas, farming families, people in the Armed Forces, and those in institutions, such as prisons and mental hospitals. Consumer inflation for all urban consumers is measured by two indexes, namely, the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI-U) and the Chained Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (C-CPI-U). The Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W) is based on the expenditures of households included in the CPI-U definition that meet two requirements: more than one-half of the household's income must come from clerical or wage occupations, and at least one of the household's earners must have been employed for at least 37 weeks during the previous 12 months. The CPI-W population represents approximately 30 percent of the total U.S. population and is a subset of the CPI-U population.

The CPIs are based on prices of food, clothing, shelter, fuels, transportation, doctors' and dentists' services, drugs, and other goods and services that people buy for day-to-day living. Prices are collected each month in 75 urban areas across the country from about 6,000 housing units and approximately 22,000 retail establishments (department stores, supermarkets, hospitals, filling stations, and other types of stores and service establishments). All taxes directly associated with the purchase and use of items are included in the index. Prices of fuels and a few other items are obtained every month in all 75 locations. Prices of most other commodities and services are collected every month in the three largest geographic areas and every other month in other areas. Prices of most goods and services are obtained by personal visit, telephone call, web, or app collection by the Bureau's trained representatives.

In calculating the index, price changes for the various items in each location are aggregated using weights, which represent their importance in the spending of the appropriate population group. Local data are then combined to obtain a U.S. city average. For the CPI-U and CPI-W, separate indexes are also published by size of city, by region of the country, for cross-classifications of regions and population-size classes, and for 23 selected local areas. Area indexes do not measure differences in the level of prices among cities; they only measure the average change in prices for each area since the base period. For the C-CPI-U, data are issued only at the national level. The CPI-U and CPI-W are considered final when released, but the C-CPI-U is issued in preliminary form and subject to three subsequent quarterly revisions.

The index measures price change from a designed reference date. For most of the CPI-U and the CPI-W, the reference base is 1982-84 equals 100. The reference base for the C-CPI-U is December 1999 equals 100. An increase of 7 percent from the reference base, for example, is shown as 107.000. Alternatively, that relationship can also be expressed as the price of a base period market basket of goods and services rising from $100 to $107.

Sampling Error in the CPI

The CPI is a statistical estimate that is subject to sampling error because it is based upon a sample of retail prices and not the complete universe of all prices. BLS calculates and publishes estimates of the 1-month, 2-month, 6-month, and 12-month percent change standard errors annually for the CPI-U. These standard error estimates can be used to construct confidence intervals for hypothesis testing. For example, the estimated standard error of the 1-month percent change is 0.03 percent for the U.S. all items CPI. This means that if we repeatedly sample from the universe of all retail prices using the same methodology, and estimate a percentage change for each sample, then 95 percent of these estimates will be within 0.06 percent of the 1-month percentage change based on all retail prices. For example, for a 1-month change of 0.2 percent in the all items CPI-U, we are 95 percent confident that the actual percent change based on all retail prices would fall between 0.14 and 0.26 percent. For the latest data, including information on how to use the estimates of standard error, see www.bls.gov/cpi/tables/variance-estimates/home.htm.

Calculating Index Changes

Movements of the indexes from 1 month to another are usually expressed as percent changes rather than changes in index points, because index point changes are affected by the level of the index in relation to its base period, while percent changes are not. The following table shows an example of using index values to calculate percent changes:

	Item A	Item B	Item C
Year I	112.500	225.000	110.000
Year II	121.500	243.000	128.000
Change in index points	9.000	18.000	18.000
Percent change	$9.0/112.500 \times 100 = 8.0$	$18.0/225.000 \times 100 = 8.0$	$18.0/110.000 \times 100 = 16.4$

Use of Seasonally Adjusted and Unadjusted Data

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) program produces both unadjusted and seasonally adjusted data. Seasonally adjusted data are computed using seasonal factors derived by the X-13ARIMA-SEATS seasonal adjustment method. These factors are updated each February, and the new factors are used to revise the previous 5 years of seasonally adjusted data. The factors are available at www.bls.gov/cpi/tables/seasonal-adjustment/seasonal-factors-2025.xlsx. For more information on data revision scheduling, please see the Factsheet on Seasonal Adjustment at www.bls.gov/cpi/seasonal-adjustment/questions-and-answers.htm and the Timeline of Seasonal Adjustment Methodological Changes at www.bls.gov/cpi/seasonal-adjustment/timeline-seasonal-adjustment-methodology-changes.htm.

How to Use Seasonally Adjusted and Unadjusted Data

For analyzing short-term price trends in the economy, seasonally adjusted changes are usually preferred since they eliminate the effect of changes that normally occur at the same time and in about the same magnitude every year—such as price movements resulting from weather events, production cycles, model changeovers, holidays, and sales. This allows data users to focus on changes that are not typical for the time of year.

The unadjusted data are of primary interest to consumers concerned about the prices they actually pay. Unadjusted data are also used extensively for escalation purposes. Many collective bargaining contract agreements and pension plans, for example, tie compensation changes to the Consumer Price Index before adjustment for seasonal variation. BLS advises against the use of seasonally adjusted data in escalation agreements because seasonally adjusted series are revised annually for five years.

Intervention Analysis

The Bureau of Labor Statistics uses intervention analysis seasonal adjustment (IASA) for some CPI series. Sometimes extreme values or sharp movements can distort the underlying seasonal pattern of price change. Intervention analysis seasonal adjustment is a process by which the distortions caused by such unusual events are estimated and removed from the data prior to calculation of seasonal factors. The resulting seasonal factors, which more accurately represent the seasonal pattern, are then applied to the unadjusted data.

For example, this procedure was used for the motor fuel series to offset the effects of the 2009 return to normal pricing after the worldwide economic downturn in 2008. Retaining this outlier data during seasonal factor calculation would distort the computation of the seasonal portion of the time series data for motor fuel, so it was estimated and removed from the data prior to seasonal adjustment. Following that, seasonal factors were calculated based on this "prior adjusted" data. These seasonal factors represent a clearer picture of the seasonal pattern in the data. The last step is for motor fuel seasonal factors to be applied to the unadjusted data.

For the seasonal factors introduced for January 2025, BLS adjusted 63 series using intervention analysis seasonal adjustment, including selected food and beverage items, motor fuels and vehicles.

Revision of Seasonally Adjusted Indexes

Seasonally adjusted data, including the U.S. city average all items index levels, are subject to revision for up to 5 years after their original release. Every year, economists in the CPI calculate new seasonal factors for seasonally adjusted series and apply them to the last 5 years of data. Seasonally adjusted indexes beyond the last 5 years of data are considered to be final and not subject to revision. For January 2025, revised seasonal factors and seasonally adjusted indexes for 2020 to 2024 were calculated and published. For series which are directly adjusted using the Census X-13ARIMA-SEATS seasonal adjustment software, the seasonal factors for 2024 will be applied to data for 2025 to produce the seasonally adjusted 2025 indexes. Series which are indirectly seasonally adjusted by summing seasonally adjusted component series have seasonal factors which are derived and are therefore not available in advance.

Determining Seasonal Status

Each year the seasonal status of every series is reevaluated based upon certain statistical criteria. Using these criteria, BLS economists determine whether a series should change its status from "not seasonally adjusted" to "seasonally adjusted", or vice versa. If any of the 81 components of the U.S. city average all items index change their seasonal adjustment status from seasonally adjusted to not seasonally adjusted, not seasonally adjusted data will be used in the aggregation of the dependent series for the last 5 years, but the seasonally adjusted indexes before that period will not be changed. For 2025, 34 of the 81 components of the U.S. city average all items index are not seasonally adjusted.

Re: RFSQ #25-59 Qualifications for a Contractor Pool for Residential Home Elevations and or Reconstruction for FEMA Harvey Disaster Funding Recipients

Dear Mr. Harris:

Thank you for your response to the above solicitation for Brazoria County. The initial review of your submission is complete. Per page 3 of 46 of your Exhibit B response, section 1.0 Experience and Qualifications, Item 1.1, states the following:

Comal is currently one of two engineering inspectors in the Brazoria County Home Elevation and Reconstruction program (RFSQ #20-27 Structural Integrity and Independent Inspection Services for Flood Mitigation Home Elevation; Mar. 2020-present). We acknowledge that we cannot be both the inspector and contractor for any individual project. If chosen to participate as a contractor by Brazoria County, we acknowledge we would only be allowed to submit construction proposals for the projects we are eligible to do so and would greatly appreciate the opportunity. If necessary, we would be willing to relinquish our role as engineering inspector in order to be a contractor.

This letter is to confirm, should your firm be added to the pool of pre-qualified contractors, for elevation services, a court order will be issued to terminate your award under RFSQ #20-27 Structural Integrity and Independent Inspection Services for Flood Mitigation Home Elevation.

While Motorola is responsible for converting the specified data, it is critical that Brazoria County assign a knowledgeable resource to this activity that will remain engaged throughout the conversion process.

The Legacy System database must be in a relational database structure and on Brazoria County's provided hardware and software. Additionally, Motorola must be able to link directly to the Legacy System databases from the PremierOne database server on the PremierOne domain.

Motorola does not provide any data cleansing or manipulation of the data in the Legacy System and conducts a single, one time, bulk load of the legacy data into Brazoria County's PremierOne Records production system. In addition to the single bulk load into Brazoria County's PremierOne Records production system, Motorola will perform one bulk load into Brazoria County's PremierOne Records training system to ensure the accuracy of mapping.

Brazoria County should conduct a comprehensive analysis of the data in the Legacy System to identify duplicate data/records, lost data, orphaned records, records that have not been linked properly, or records that are otherwise no longer valid and resolve those issues prior to Motorola performing the data conversion.

Motorola will do its best to map all data fields from Legacy System to PremierOne Records; however, there is a possibility some data will not be converted. Motorola will identify this data to Brazoria County and discuss alternatives prior to the bulk load of the legacy data.
