Item 5.2 Recycled Asphaltic Concrete Pavement (RACP) (Item 340, Type “B”),
Mix with AC-20 Asphalt
Item 5.3 Hot Mix Asphaltic Concrete Pavement - Asphalt Mix Type D

Dear Ms. Serrano,

American Materials, Inc. would like to provide you with supporting documents for our price increase letter dated March 18, 2024, as you have requested in your e-mail, which is due by Tuesday, March 19, 2024.

Included in the attachments are price increase letters from our aggregate suppliers for sized aggregates. The prices increased by $8.00 per ton. Based on our mix designs, this equates to a cost increase of $6.40 per ton for finished HMA at our Angleton location.

Furthermore, prices (see attached) from the Union Pacific Railroad Company increased by $50.00 per car on July 1, 2023, and by $80.00 per car on January 1, 2024. We have been contacted by our UPRR representative and have been told we will receive a similar annual escalator this year on July 1, 2024. These railroad freight increases would equate to a total of $1.58 per ton of finished, manufactured Hot Mix Asphalt FOB our plant located at 500 Ward Street, Angleton, Texas.

This information shows that the total material cost increase for one ton of manufactured Hot Mix Asphalt, FOB our plant at 500 Ward Street, Angleton, Texas is $9.58 per ton.

In addition to raw material increases, American Materials, Inc. has also seen unprecedented increases in ancillary operating inputs that are essential to the manufacturing of Hot Mix Asphalt. Process fuel (i.e. natural gas and diesel fuel), equipment operating expenses, parts, and labor have all soared over the last year as well.

In an effort to be a good partner with Brazoria County, American Materials, Inc., is at this time, only requesting a price increase of $5.00 per ton effective as of April 25, 2024 only in order to cover the above mentioned raw material increases. This in turn would increase the price of manufactured asphalt from $74.00 per ton to $79.00 per ton whether it is Item 5.1, Item 5.2 or Item 5.3.

We trust that this explanation and the attached documents are what you need for submittal to Commissioners Court.

We appreciate your consideration and approval of this requested price increase. Please let me know if we can be of any further assistance.

Very truly yours,
American Materials, Inc.

To Our Valued Customer,

As we prepare to enter the 2023 construction season, we want to say thank you for your continued business. As always, our goal is to continue offering quality construction materials and best in class service. Partners like you allow us to continually reinvest in our business which is a priority for 2023 and beyond.

As you are aware, costs have continued to increase at a pace that makes it difficult to maintain margin levels that allow for timely reinvestment in our operations. Although inflation has eased slightly coming into the year, it is being forecasted to remain well above historical levels. Continued supply chain challenges have also put pressure on parts pricing which is critical for our day-to-day operations.

To that end, we are announcing a price increase that will be effective July 1, 2023, at all locations in the South Texas area. For project work, we will begin quoting these prices immediately. We will not be granting any pricing protection and these prices are firm.

Locations	Product	Increase Amount
All Houston Area Rail Terminals	All Limestone Products	$2.00
Arena, Eagle Lake, & Sealy	Gravel	$1.00
Arena, Eagle Lake, & Sealy	Sand	$0.50

Heidelberg Materials values your business and appreciates the continuation of this partnership. If you have any questions, please contact your sales representative.

Sincerely,

[EXTERNAL] Links and attachments may be dangerous. Call the help desk at (832) 944-6240 if you aren't sure.

Hi Brad,

As you know we renew the majority of our Rock portfolio on 7/1. I'd like to provide you with your renewals rates valid from 7/1/2023 – 6/30/2024. Through customer feedback, we decided to revamp our Rock pricing with the intent of fostering better customer service, namely, in terms of simplicity such as rating and publication to help limit downstream administrative efforts.

I'd like to take this opportunity to walk you through the major changes:

- Adjusted train size for consistency and adopted few vs many train size breaks
- Adopted County to County pricing for the tariff
- Over time Union Pacific has invested in 286k track across the network for this reason we have removed low capacity car rates unless noted on a case by case basis
- Directionally, on an average basis, some rates might be higher and some might be lower but we targeted the following increases per region

Region	Increase v current rates
Texas: Austin/Sait	$ 50
Texas: Beaumont	$ 55
Texas: Bryan	$ 50
Texas: Corpus	$ 45
Texas: Dallas	$ 40
Texas: EagleFord	$ 40
Texas: East TX	$ 45
Texas: Houston	$ 50
Texas: South TX	$ 45
State: Kansas	$ 35
State: Louisiana	$ 60
State: Oklahoma	$ 55

Excel attachment details:

- The first tab is a terms and conditions tab for all rates. The second tab are tariff rates.

- Tariff rates
  - The tariff is published by county to county and applies to all City, ST combinations within that county for instance Jefferson, TX county includes Pt Arthur, TX, Beaumont, TX and so on.
  - The tariff has 2 (two) types of train sizes published
    - Less than 90 cars also applies to manifest shipments (reference column C private rates & column E rail cars)
    - 90 to 105 cars (reference column D private rates & column F rail rates)
  - At this time because we migrated from many train sizes to only two and because we fully revamped the tariff we are unable to give you side by side rates rate changes but have provided you directional pricing above. We will be in a position to provide this information next year for the 7/1/2024 renewals.

We respectfully ask for any feedback that you may have no later than May 22, 2023. We appreciate and value you as a partner of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Thank you!
